Long Strange Trip

Admit it: you've been wondering how we came to be who we are today as a religious movement. Try this fun and easy way of learning about the twists and turns of our history. Long Strange Trip is a six-part video series by Ron Cordes that explores the history of Unitarian and Universalist thought and practice from the early, liberal strands in faith at the beginning of the Christian era to what we know today as Unitarian Universalism.

The January 4 installment is the history of Universalism from the early 17th century through much of the 19th century. It includes our miracle story, and lots of awesome people to know like Judith Sergeant Murray and Hosea Ballou, and recounts the fast and wide spread of Universalist churches across America.

Full of heretics, theological debates, controversial sermons, our one miracle, battles for civil rights, and great scenery, Long Strange Trip does not disappoint. Each session will include a showing of the DVD (each an hour long) and a subsequent discussion. Six first Thursdays, come to one or some or all. 7-9 p.m. at 1019 South Boulevard
